

NEW LUBBESTHORPE PRIMARY SCHOOL NEWSLETTER

March 2023

Message from Miss Hackett

It has been wonderful to see so many parents coming into school over the last couple of weeks. The pupils have thoroughly enjoyed performing their class assemblies and sharing their curriculum. Thank you so much for all of your support. Please see the dates for your diary section of the newsletter for any future assemblies and other events.

We have had a very exciting time celebrating World Book Day and taking part in lots of book related activities. The younger children have enjoyed working with our older children to read books and complete activities. The children thoroughly enjoyed their 'Bringing Books To Life' theatre and drama workshops and we would like to thank our PTA for paying for this wonderful experience for our children. Thank you also to all our parents and families who visited our book fayre.

Thank you for the part that you played with resourcing costumes and helping your child to bring their book character to life.

Our older children enjoy engaging in a variety of roles and responsibilities across the school, this helps develop their confidence and understanding of the value of responsibility and supports with the transition to secondary school.

Our Y6 pupils received notification of their secondary school places last week. I hope that you were all pleased with the allocations that you received. Please respond to your offer before 14th March by accepting your place.

Chick News

We welcomed Spring at New Lubbesthorpe this week with our 'living eggs'. On Monday, ten eggs arrived in an incubator and by Thursday we had nine beautiful chicks! The children have been amazed and excited to watch the first stages of a chicken's life cycle, from hatching to a chick. The chicks will be spending the weekend with Miss Davies and next week, they will spend time with the children in their classrooms. Did you know chicks can take one to twenty-four hours to hatch and that breaking out of their shell is called "pipping"? To help them break out of their shell, chicks have a lump on their top beak called an "egg tooth" which falls off soon after hatching.

The secret to success

Below are the nine areas that we believe will create a fulfilled, curious, and independent learner

Value of the month

Happiness

is an emotional state characterized by feelings of joy, satisfaction, contentment, and fulfillment.

One of the greatest joys that can come to an individual is when you're doing something and helping others, and you see the reaction on their face.

Thank you for your support.

Thank you

Thank you to all of our Year 5 & 6 parents who attended the residential meeting on Wednesday after school. For those who were unable to attend the meeting is on the school website.

Holi Celebrations

We would like to wish a happy Holi festival to any families that are celebrating this. We have been celebrating the Holi festival in school, learning about the story of Holi and using powdered paint to represent the colour.

Here is some work that the children have done using powdered paint.
